Welcome to your Drupal 8 Research or Faculty Website

Your research or faculty web site supports a number of different kinds of content. The homepage is organized by regions, and content from some of these content types are displayed in various blocks in these regions.

Table of Contents

Click on the content types to find out more about what they are:

General Homepage Diagram

The site diagram below shows an example site and how they have chosen to integrate various pieces of content in their homepage.