Basic Pages (and all content types with a text editor field)

Basic pages, and all content types with a text editor field (as in the screenshot below), have the ability to insert images.

A note on captions and alignment

If you make use of the caption feature, it will change your image based on how it is aligned.
It is recommended that you choose an alignment when using captions.

You’ll have the option to use captions when you insert an image. Notice the checkbox for captions toward the bottom of the screen:

Beneath the image, you’ll see a place to add a caption:

I have added the text: "Professor Susan Haire teaching her research methods during a criminal justice class in one of the classrooms in Candler Hall."

Here’s how the edit screen looks after I have added my caption.

After I save my content, the captioned image will take on a certain form based on how I have chosen to align it.

Right or Left Alignment: the image will be 50 percent of column width.
The Criminal Justice Studies Program

The Criminal Justice Studies Program offers an interdisciplinary academic program of study. Core and elective courses are taught by faculty in units across campus, particularly those that focus on social science, criminal justice, and related fields. Required courses include those associated with criminology, criminal justice, and social science disciplines, and other related professional degree programs, such as law, social work, and public administration. Certain courses are required in all majors in this program to meet degree requirements.

Study Abroad

Each summer, faculty from Shippensburg University conduct a USA-led study abroad program at Liverpool in Northwest England. Students will be housed in single occupancy rooms at the University of Liverpool, located in the city center and just a few blocks away from parks, restaurants, the waterfront, historical sites, and, of course, a soccer stadium. The program fee includes lodging, meals, a trip to scenic areas in Wales and a visit with the local police force.
